Method of Correction

Leave it, no in a firm, but friendly tone. Praise for desired behaviors.

Small Dog Safe

Correctable

Comments (Small Dog)

We do not have small dogs in the house. At first she was quite reactive with other dogs at meet and greets. She has gradually improved greatly with correction when she has started to bark, distraction before she has started to react excitedly and praise for remaining calm around other dogs.

Cat Safe

No

Comments (Cat Safe)

Charity tested not cat safe. She has also been very prey driven at pet stores around other small animals such as guinea pigs and rats.

Good With Young Children

Correctable

Comments (Young Children)

Charity has done well around children at meet and greets. She would do best in a home without very small, active children such as toddlers and younger grade school age kids. She does well with older children.

Turn Out Routine

First thing in the morning around 6am, after breakfast about 7:30 am, when I get home from work about noon, about 6pm after dinner, before bed around 10:30pm-11pm.

Potty On Lead

Yes

Garbage

She has not tried to get into the garbage. We do have a pedal trash can in the kitchen.

Stairs

She does carpeted steps well.

Floors

She has no trouble handling our laminate flooring in the kitchen. We do have runners down.

Counters

She has not tried to counter surf.

When is the hound crated?

- 8 Hour Work Day

How does the hound handle being crated?

Charity crates well. She is given a large milk bone before she goes into the crate. She is also fed in her crate.

What does the hound enjoy?

Charity loves to be petted and to lean on people. She enjoys running around the yard with our other greyhounds. She likes stuffies and squeaky toys. She also enjoys treats.

Does the hound have any fears?

None that we've found.

What type of temperament does the hound have? (Shy, outgoing, confident, etc.)

Charity is friendly, affectionate can be playful, but also laid back. She can be a little bit stubborn at times and needs firm, but gentle encouragement to do what you ask of her such as getting up from a bed.

How does the hound handle new situations?

Charity seems fairly adaptable. She has adjusted well to our home and routine without issues.
